KEY FACTS

GOOS-S is a sculptural swan-neck bollard that ends the lawn view, not a path light. One 7W COB head on a slim φ30 pole reads as garden sculpture by day and lays a soft directional pool by night — in 400–1000 mm at 2700K/4000K Ra80.

APPLICATION

- Role rule: lawn endpoint guests walk toward, not a path line — pair accents with guided path light where feet travel.
- Height rule: 400–600 mm at mowing edges and low borders · 800–1000 mm behind shrubs so the head clears foliage.
- CCT rule: 2700K flatters grass, stone and timber · 4000K suits commercial edges and crisp concrete schemes.
- Rhythm rule: three to five stems in a loose staggered group a few metres apart — never a straight runway row.

NOTES

- Ordering suffix: K3 = 2700K · K4 = 4000K — one CCT per project across all four heights.
- Supply & build: 100–240V direct mains · non-dimmable · die-cast AL + PC in Black or Grey.
- Siting: set stems a few metres apart in loose rhythm so each pool reads on its own; keep one silhouette across mixed heights.
- Family guidance: for a glowing ring centerpiece see ORB · for an arched guide line see PORT.
